

2025 Special ECHO Case Series: Substance Use Disorders in Patients with Cancer and Opioids for Pain Management

2025 Special ECHO Case Series: Substance Use Disorders in Patients with Cancer and Opioids for Pain Management - 6/26/2025

Speaker(s): Taylor Crouch, PhD

Topic: Didactic and case discussion series on a cancer, opioid, pain management, and substance use topic with discussion guided by specialist providers. Our ECHO is a virtual network of serious illness care specialists and interdisciplinary team members seeking to improve patient care throughout the Commonwealth of Virginia and beyond. Our collaborators in addiction medicine and pharmacy provide insights in the management of high-risk patients.

Purpose or Objectives: At the conclusion of this activity, the participant will be able to:

- 1 Understand the limits of the biomedical model of pain and evidence for the biopsychosocial model
- 2 Describe emotional, physiological, behavioral, and sociocultural factors that influence the pain experience
- 3 Identify care and treatment implications of the biopsychosocial model of pain
