VCU Health Safety Conference 2019

Taking Safety Into Your Own Hands:
Empowering the Front Line with Lean Management Tools

The VCU Health Safety Conference is for all team members engaged in promoting a culture of safety every day throughout the organization. The conference will feature presentations on current best practices and tools for increasing safety in your daily practice, along with interactive exercises and recognition of Safety Stars and Coaches.

Objectives
Participants will:

- Describe the challenges and opportunities to improve quality and patient safety, create a safe environment, and reduce medical errors by implementing Lean methodologies in the delivery of patient care at VCU Health.
- Identify specific methods and strategies related to Lean Systems Engineering that improve quality, patient safety, and patient experiences across the continuum of care.
- Articulate best practice approaches to implement and sustain Lean System designs at VCU Health related to patient safety.
- Identify strategies to teach Lean methodologies, with a focus on interdisciplinary collaboration that promotes a culture of communication leading to safety and accountability in a variety of settings.
